

Aguaquard gelcoats... moving you into the next century

Technology that has stood the test of time

Alpine Pools and Spas choose to use Fibreglass as the preferred construction method. The original (now with new technology), and not compromised for ease of manufacture (not vacuum formed acrylic/plastics).

The Aguaquard Gelcoat Pool range is the result of continuing research and development programmes aimed at improving pool gelcoats even further.

Aguaquard gelcoat is the result of extensive research and development programmes that incorporates the latest technology for Gelcoat applications

These high quality gelcoats when used with FGI Epoxy Vinyl Ester, an FGI Resin/Glass Laminate followed by an FGI Flowcoat will provide the best quality pool that money can buy. They are proven to be chemical and water resistant.

These gelcoats will provide the ultimate in protective performance to ensure your pool retains its appearance over many years.
